

ENGINEERS HANDBOOK Publication

This is a reference publication that provides essential background knowledge for service and repair on both touring caravans and motorhomes. The Handbook has been produced to accompany the written aspect of the City & Guilds examination in Caravan Service Engineering, however it also provides everyday reference material for workshop engineers.

Section 1

Introduction and Syllabus to the City & Guilds Certificate in Caravan Engineering.

Section 2

Provides background study material specifically for the exam, including:

- British & European Standards
- Gas
- Damp testing
- Health & Safety
- Water Systems
- Chassis
- Electricity
- Water
- Wheels & Tyres

Section 3

Section 3 examines the material on health & safety, and provides information on customer care, first aid, working as a team and the Approved Workshop Scheme. All these things are important to service engineers, but not examined within the City & Guilds qualification.
